7 November 1960

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director, PIC
SUBJECT: Additional In-House Contract Assistance

1. Since we have apparently broken the ice with the achievement of a TS clearance for [REDACTED] I think it is timely to start on a second man. 25X1A
2. Discussions with [REDACTED] concerning the electronic rectifier lead me to believe the following suggestions are valid: 25X1A

- a. The rectifiers (2) when delivered to PIC (January 1961 and about July 1961) should have the benefit of continuous specialized maintenance and trained operators. 25X1A
- b. The rectifiers should be located in the proximity of the [REDACTED] computer, since continuous ties will be necessary, and because they are not intended to be production instruments, in the volume sense of the word. 25X1A
- c. These considerations should not preclude our sending men to [REDACTED] for training as a PIC backstop for the one contract type. 25X1A

3. The following names were given me by [REDACTED] as likely persons for such a task: 25X1A

- a. [REDACTED]
- b. [REDACTED]

4. The cost per man-year, including [REDACTED] burden, G&A, and fees, would be in the neighborhood of [REDACTED]. They would expect a minimum of a one-year contract. 25X1A

5. I suggest that [REDACTED] you, and I talk this over as soon as possible. 25X1A
